

We Keep Coming Back

Following the Crown's broken promise, Métis families were displaced from their Sault Ste. Marie River Lots, and settlers actively tried to erase Métis history. Métis graves at the HBC cemetery were built over, and those at Sacred Heart were moved twice. Despite this, the Sault Métis remain resilient; the HBC cemetery is now home to the Métis Heritage Centre, and a monument is planned to honour the ancestors from Sacred Heart.

